- The Fund primarily invests in smaller companies in Japan that generally fall within the bottom 25% of their relevant market by way of market capitalization.
- Investments involve varying degree of investment risks (e.g. liquidity, market, economic, political, regulatory, taxation, financial, interest rate, hedging and currency risks). In extreme market conditions, you may lose your entire investment.
- Investments in financial derivatives instruments ("FDIs") (such as futures, swaps, options, forward rate notes, and forward foreign exchange contracts) involve specific risks (e.g. counterparty, liquidity, leverage, volatility and valuation risk). The Fund may use FDIs for hedging and/or efficient portfolio management purposes.
- The Fund's instruments are concentrated in Japan and may subject to higher concentration risk.
- The investment decision is yours. If you are in any doubt about the contents of this document, you should seek independent professional financial advice.
- Investors should not only base on this document alone to make investment decisions and should read the offering documents including the risk factors for further details.

About the fund

The investment objective of the Japanese Smaller Companies Fund is to seek long-term capital appreciation by investing at least two-thirds of its total assets in smaller Japanese companies. For this purpose, companies falling within the bottom 25% of their relevant market by way of market capitalisation are considered to be smaller companies. The Fund may invest in OTC markets. Such markets are geographically de-centralised and may be operated and regulated differently from other markets and accordingly may be subject to slightly more risks.

Additional Information

Please note from 1st November 2015, the benchmark changed from Tokyo SE Second Section Index to Russel/Nomura Small Cap Index. With effect from 17 November 2014, the base currency of the fund has changed from USD to JPY.
